The CASH BOX® Radio Report

The Competitors' Edge

KRBE/HOUSTON, PAUL CHRISTY, PD, HELENE PINA, MD — "We use TH RADIO REPORT as a gauge, it helps on a national level. It's more accessible and easier to read than the other trades."

KMJK/PORTLAND, STEVE NAGANUMA, PD — "THE CASH BOX RADIO REPORT provides the most comprehensive analysis available anywhere. The demographic and current tour information is stuff that you can't get anywhere else. From a radio standpoint, it is very useful and complete information."

KSDO/SAN DIEGO, GREG ROLLING, MD — "One of the most comprehensive charts I've seen to date. It lets you know the reason behind the chart move

KAYI (K-107)/TULSA, DUNCAN PAYTON, MD — "I find THE RADIO REPORT not only extremely helpful, but I often use it in making final decisions

WZAT/SAVANNAH, BRADY McGRAW, PD — "I think THE CASH BOX RADIO REPORT is getting more on target. I find it helpful from a radio standpoint. For me, it's the best part of the magazine."

WQUT/JOHNSON CITY, STEVE TAYLOR, MD — "THE CASH BOX RADIO REPORT is an extremely useful tool. It gives you statistical information not seen in any other magazine of its kind. It helps us keep ahead of the competition and continue to be a market leader."

KZZB/BEAUMONT, CHRIS BAKER, PD — "It has great regional breakdown information. I especially like the demographic information and the multi-format research."

KCAQ/OXNARD, GREG WILLIAMS, MD — "It's very helpful to have all the information broken down in one place. Anything you could possibly want to know is presented here in a very compact information section. It's also helpful t see the various sections of the country at one time."

ensorship Panel Takes Focus Music Business Symposium

By Gregory Dobrin

NGELES—Battle lines were drawn ain between rock music and those pose its content during a panel on nfluence on society at the recent Mu- ness Symposium at the Ambassador two-hour plus debate over the per- evils of rock lyrics and the rights of ns, top professionals of the music s, including Geffen Records presi- l Rosenblatt, Spin publisher Bob ie Jr., BAM publisher Dennis Ero- e RIAA's Trish Heimers, publicist l Bloom, Goshen Indiana's Rock Rag er Marianne Hatfield and recording Frank Zappa and Jello Biafra, vol- ie issue with representatives of the ering side, which included PMRC ve director Jennifer Norwood, PTA nn Kahn, Back in Control director denhamer, minister Al Menconi and cords' David and Melissa Beaudoin. Friday afternoon panel delt with the same issues that have been an concern since the PMRC waged its gton-based attack on rock lyrics wo years ago, such as the stickering ns deemed harmful to youngsters. ile the issue remains a potent topic on both sides, the panel featured few impassioned outbursts.

The newest information revealed during the debate was two of the sources of the PMRC's funding - Merrill Lynch and Occidental Corporation - named by the PMRC's Norwood when cornered as to the mystery surrounding her organization's financial backing.

Norwood also provided the afternoon's most enduring plea, asking that lyrics be printed where parents can see them, giving them a chance to judge records at the point of purchase (an argument which lasted through much of the discussion until the RIAA's Heimers finally shot it down with the reality that record companies don't always own the lyrics the PMRC would have them display).

Norwood's request, echoed by several panelists on her side, called for "tools" with which parents might familiarize themselves with what their children are listening to. Citing the bushels of reading material available (such as rock publications) Heimers responded, "You've asked for tools - you've got tools.'

eir 525 store chain which includes es "Musicland," "Sam Goody," and "Discount Records," 73 are Sam Goody outlets located in New York, Philadelphia, Washington/Baltimore and Houston.

Because the free standing Licorice Pizza name is so entrenched in the marketplace here, some industry observers questioned the name change. Musicland, who recently began a public offering of stock, is currently unable to comment because of FTC regulations.

Along with the Musicland Group, the dinner affair, was also sponsored by Rock Express Magazine, a British publication, and Miller Genuine Draft. The evening also included live performances from the Paladins, a three-piece rockabilly outfit, and Capitol recording artists Crowded House.

Buddy Rich's Drums Stilled

By Lee Jeske

NEW YORK—Buddy Rich, one of the most technically adroit drummers in the history of jazz, died April 2nd in California at the age of 69. Rich, who had a history of heart trouble, was found to have a brain tumor earlier this year, after he suffered a mild case of paralysis while performing. The tumor was removed in an operation March 16 at the UCLA Medical Center where Rich underwent subsequent chemotherapy sessions. His wife, Marie, and daughter, Kathy, were with him when he died.

Born Bernard Rich in Brooklyn in 1917, Buddy Rich was in show business at the age of 18 months—as part of Wilson & Rich, his parents' vaudeville act. Just a few years later he was touring Australia as "Traps, the Boy Wonder."

The June 12, 1925 edition of the Melbourne Sun-News Pictorial carried a picture of young Rich over the caption, "Traps, the six-year-old jazz musician at the Tivoli Theatre, is beating his way into the hearts of patrons. Next to Jackie Coogan, he is, it is stated, the highest paid juvenile in the world."

The adult Rich began gigging in New York in 1938, and, in quick succession, played with bands led by Joe Marsala, Bunny Berigan, and Artie Shaw, before joining the Tommy Dorsey Orchestra in 1939. In his first three years with Dorsey—before he left for the first time in 1942 (shortly before become a Marine)—Rich received great praise for his overwhelming technique.

"He propels a tremendous, natural beat under the impetus of one of the most magnificent drum techniques dancebandom has ever known," wrote George T. Simon in a 1942 Metronome Magazine review of the Dorsey band.

Rich's roommate in the Dorsey Orchestra was the band's male singer, Frank Sinatra, with whom the hot-headed Rich often did battle (Sinatra liked his drumming softer than Rich cared to play).

After two post-War years with Dorsey, Rich formed his first big band, in 1946, with financial assistance from the same Frank Sinatra. But the Big Band Era was kaput, so Rich worked as a star journeyman—touring with Jazz at the Philharmonic and recording with the likes of Art Tatum, Charlie Parker and Lester Young. During the '50s, Rich was in and out of the Harry James Orchestra, periodically leading his own big bands or small ensembles (and recording celebrated drum battles with Gene Krupa and Max Roach).

In 1966, after several more years with Harry James, Buddy Rich formed the big band that would ensure his stardom. The Buddy Rich Band was, not surprisingly, a hard-driving, drum-driven band that remained true to its jazz big band format while contemporizing with electric guitars, basses, and keyboards and by playing arrangements of popular rock tunes (their version of "Norwegian Wood" became one of the band's most requested numbers).

The Rich Band rarely had any star soloists except for the leader (though two saxophonists—Pat La Barbara in the early-'70s and Steven Marcus off-and-on until Rich's death—were featured prominently). Mostly made up up fresh-faced, recent college music school graduates, the Rich Band played with a fiery swagger. The highlight of every set, however, was The Drum Solo. Usually contained in an extended composition (often "The Channel One Suite" or a "West Side Story Medley"), Rich's solo forays were breathtaking masterpieces of percussion technique—lightning-fast, firecracker-crisp and fiercely rhythmic. The Band was under strict instructions to not look bored here—they were all under orders to fix their gazes on their spotlighted leader—but that wasn't necessary: the Rich solos, which almost always drew standing ovations, were marvels.

Buddy Rich became best known, perhaps, thanks to his frequent appearances on The Tonight Show, where his acerbic banter with host Johnny Carson established him as a wit and raconteur. Never humble, Rich wouldn't blink when he was referred to, as he often was, as "the world's greatest drummer." In fact, as his Tonight Show appearances made clear, it was an appellation that he didn't have any qualms with whatsoever. In terms of pure technical ability, it probably was true.

The Rich Band recorded prolifically through its 20-year existence, most recently volved is that the studio became y strictly for the writers to ex- nd they learned to produce re- 's what happened over a five to eight year spread. We wound up with an extensive roster of producers. that was quite unusual for this particular company," says Levy.

One of their most surprising successes has been young Robbie Nevil, originally signed as a writer, whose debut single as a Manhattan Records recording artist, "C'est La Vie," reached number two on the pop charts.

"We signed Robbie Nevil about four years ago. We provided him with an advance against future royalties, a studio where he could work on new songs and let him develop as a songwriter as well as developing artist tapes for him. It was through those demos that he got his record deal." Meanwhile, Nevil's latest single, "Dominoes," is looking promising.

Levy says MCA Music is now doing the same type of work that A&R men of the past had done. "Those letters are a misnomer today. They used to mean artists and repertoire. Today, it's very much a function of watching the budget and coordinating. Selecting a producer as opposed to selecting material. We do a lot of that sort of preproduction work in developing producers, songs and artists."

Much like the Kirschner and Nevins era, where the likes of Goffin and King, Mann and Weil, and Neil Sedaka learned their production skills in house, MCA Music has also developed many of their writers into producers in their own right. Of Nevins, Levy says, "He was creating little production teams within a production house. I think he started that concept. There's nothing new in terms of what we're doing. It's just new for MCA and it's been something we've connected with in terms of our customers whether they are artists, A&R people or managers. They seem to like our work a lot."

When searching for material, many times, artists and A&R people from record companies sometimes approach MCA Music. "Our job is to keep constant contact with everybody and anybody who uses outside material or is looking for a producer, co-writer or collaborator," says Levy but he added, "We're making calls more often than they're calling us."

While some writers are somewhat artists in a sense because they write material meant for themselves, Levy says there are "only a handful of writers" who work that way and can use the material in a another situation. "We do have some writers who give us material and say, 'What do you think?' but more often than not, we are working with writer just like an editor would sit down with a book writer and say 'the market tells us we can sell romance novels to the following demographic with these types of characters and x amount of pages.' The writer says 'gotcha' and goes off and knocks it out." Often, says Levy, the artist may be a great lyricist but need melodic input or vice versa. "We try to put those marriages together as well."

Several of MCA Music's writers who were signed several years ago have since become established producers or recording artists. Writer/producers include Glen Ballard, who has worked with The Pointer Sisters, Jack Wagner, Thelma Houston and Teddy Pendergrass; Tom Keane, who has worked with Julio Iglesias, Chicago and Al Jarreau; Ron Kersey, who has worked with Janice McClain, Gladys Knight and Stephanie Mills; Kashif, who has worked with Whitney Houston, Stacy Lattisaw, George Benson, Howard Johnson, Melba Moore and Dionne Warwick; Lala, who has worked with Glen Jones, Stephanie Mills and Giorgio; and Carl Sturken and Evan Rogers who have worked with Jeff Lorber, Chico DeBarge and Evelyn King.

BREAKTHROUGH—A prisoner of conscience 'adopted' by Amnesty International has been freed by the government of Sri Lanka, prompted, it is believed, by a postcard campaign by Simple Minds when the A&M recording act performed in San Diego last year. Pictured (l-r) are: John G. Healey, executive director of American Operations, Amnesty International; Gil Friesen, president of A&M Records; Charlie Burchill, Simple Minds; Jim Kerr, Simple Minds.

Simple Minds' Gains Prisoner Release Via Amnesty Push

LOS ANGELES—Last year's postcard campaign on behalf of Amnesty International, organized by Scottish group Simple Minds, has yielded the release of at least one Sri Lankan man, according to the group's U.S. label, A&M. Simple Minds distributed Amnesty International postcards at its concerts to spur letter writing campaigns on behalf of "adopted" prisoners of conscience.

P. Udayarahan had been incarcerated for up to three years according to Amnesty International. He was a member of a religious minority at odds with the Sri Lankan government and had been held without trial or charges.

Amnesty International's San Diego office was contacted by the government of Sri Lanka to inform them of Udayarahan's release. The prisoner was released on June 16, 1986. Simple Minds performed in San Diego in April. The San Diego office then informed Simple Minds' Jim Kerr by letter that Udayarahan's release was as a likely result of the postcard distribution at the group's San Diego concert. "Our chapter here in San Diego passed out postcards on (Udayarahan's) behalf to every member of the audience at your concert," the letter said.

"All of us are absolutely delighted," said Kerr. "This is a credit to the people who attended our show and made the effort to fill out a postcard and mail it in," he added. During its 1985-86 world tour, Simple Minds endorsed the postcard campaign at each of its concerts. In addition, the band donated the entire proceeds of one American and one British concert to Amnesty International.

John G. Healey, Amnesty International's executive director of American Operations thanked Kerr and Simple Minds for keeping "alive the spirit of our 'Conspiracy Of Hope' " and added, "That a prisoner can be freed as a result of a postcard campaign shows that the effort to make peaceful change doesn't end with the last benefit concert. In fact, we are just beginning."

President of A&M Records, Gil Friesen commented, "The release of P. Udayarahan as a result of Amnesty's and, specifically, Simple Minds' efforts, is an event that should be noted as an example of what can be accomplished by membership in Amnesty International and active involvement in its programs."

POINTS WEST

ELTON TO MCA—Back in good health after his throat cancer scare, Elton John has officially made the much talked about return to his former label, MCA Records.

HOMECOMING—Elton John has returned to MCA, home of his mega '70s successes.

The move is a homecoming: MCA is where he was signed from 1973 to 1980 - a rather phenomenal period for the guy with the palm trees growing out of his horn rims (his "Captain Fantastic" and "Greatest Hits" albums, MCA titles each, both jumped to the top of the charts upon their release. His record sales in a one year period back then reportedly made up an unprecedented 2 percent of global record sales). John's multi-record deal with MCA kicks off with "Elton John Live In Australia With The Melbourne Symphony Orchestra," recorded during his Australian concert tour late last year. The album's due date is July. Also in July, the Showtime Cable Network will air a live concert concert special taped during the final performance of John's Aussie tour (the special is also slated for home video release in July, with U.S. distribution by L.A.-based J 2 Communications. Virgin Video will distribute it internationally).

PSYCHIATRIC FUND—Ozzy Osbourne, a guy who's been incessantly attacked by the "moralists" of our fair nation (some of whom seem to be just itching to get their own china pattern onto the White House dining table once Nan gives up the roost) has sent a monetary contribution of his own to Oral Roberts after hearing of the ever so saintly evangelist's delivery from an early trip to heaven - now that he's managed to cough up that $8 million to the Big Guy In The Sky (a heavy phone bill for the divine hot line. Our question is this: if "going home" is gonna' be such a pleasure for ya', why the big stink, Oral?). Anyway, Ozzy Osbourne, sensitive to Oral's passion for the green stuff, sent Roberts a one dollar bill (a blow to anyone who just loves money - and plenty of it, the way Oral apparently just loves money) accompanied by a note, which read: "I'm glad that you didn't have to die in the name of raising money for your cause, but now that you've emerged from your "Prayer Tower," I'm sure you'll be able to make use of my enclosed donation: a one dollar bill. It is for your psychiatric treatment fund." Good to see someone who the Washington Stepford Wives seem to think an absolute looney toons helping out someone who apparently is. Incidentally, Osbourne's song, "Suicide Solution," the one that caused his widely reported lawsuit, is said to have been written about AC/DC's Bon Scott and his alcohol-related death. Osbourne's publicists say it is an anti-alcohol tune ("Suicide Solution" - as in liquid). Makes sense to us.

MORE DOOBIES—The Doobie Brothers, a band which seems to be reuniting all over the place to play benefits these days, has planned a date (May 25) at the Bay Area's Shoreline Amphitheatre to benefit the Children's Hospital at Stanford. Funds from the concert go toward building a new Children's Hospital next to the Stanford University Medical Center. The concert takes place two days after the Doobies reunite to benefit Vietnam War veterans at the Hollywood Bowl May 23 (see last week's column).

POCKET CHANGE—Ozzy Osbourne turns the other cheek and forks over a dollar to the Oral Roberts Psychiatric Fund.

IN PARTING—Jello Biafra and friends' arraignment for their suit involving that bad-luck record sleeve has been set for April 13 in L.A. court (a writ of prohibition was filed April 3, the day of Biafra's appearance at the Music Business Symposium on the censorship panel). Biafra says the suit has cost $70,000 to date . . . Members of Fleetwood Mac played some impromptu club dates in Hawaii recently (where the band was shooting its video for "Big Love"). Mick Fleetwood, performing with his band Mick Fleetwood's Zoo, was joined by Stevie Nicks for two small club dates there, we're told . . . The Everly Brothers are producing their forthcoming PolyGram LP . . . Sire's K.D. Lang played to an industry-filled house at the Roxy recently, giving L.A. an earful of her Canadian western swing/polka/rockabilly style - a show that included plenty of intentional laughs along with Lang's awesome vocals . . . Air Supply lead singer Russell Hitchcock's forthcoming solo debut LP for Arista, produced in part by Keith Olsen (Pat Benatar, Starship), includes songs from Billy Steinberg and Tom Kelly ("Like A Virgin" et al). Heart's Denny Carmassi and Mike Baird of Journey play on the album . . . Micro Plant, a new computerized MIDI-synth room has been opened at L.A.'s Record Plant by session player and synthesizer wizard Steve Deutsch.

NEW FACES TO WATCH

K.D. Lang has descended on the U.S. from her native Canada with all the force of a northern blizzard. Armed with a unique blend of country, polka, western swing and rockabilly/pop, Lang and her band The Reclines recently released their debut Sire LP, "Angel With A Lariat," produced by Dave Edmunds.

Having already released one indie album, "A Truly Western Experience" to raves in the Canadian market in 1984, Lang has gained a large Canadian following. For Americans, however, she's been something of a well-kept northern secret.

Born in the tiny prairie berg of Consort, Alberta (population 650), Kathy Dawn Lang didn't grow up in a country music household (her earliest influences were Broadway and rock'n'roll), though her environment was filled with it. She started playing guitar at age ten, writing original tunes while still in her early teens, and eventually majored in music in college. She then got into painting and performance art, which also included her music.

In her teens, Lang went through a period in which she "disliked" country music, but in 1982 found herself returning to country - a genre very much a part of her cultural perspective, if not her upbringing. She was soon writing straight country songs, and by late 1983 began putting together her present band. In 1984 they put out a single (written by Lang), "Friday Dance Promanade," followed by the "A Truly Western Experience" album in February of that year. The album sold 13,000 units in the first week of its release (a lot for Canada), winning her the Canadian equivalent of the Grammy for Best New Artist.

While playing a date at New York's Bottom Line, Lang was seen by Sire president Seymour Stein, who signed her. Edmunds was chosen from a list of possible producers, based on his experience with such country greats as Johnny Cash and Carl Perkins, as well as his rock sensibility.

The resulting LP encorporates a variety of styles - from country pop to polka - spearheaded by a rockabilly cover of the Joe South classic "Rose Garden," recently released as a country single (the album is being worked both pop and country, though a pop single has yet to be named).

The album, which includes se Lang compositions, has a humc edge that deals playfully with cou corn. It is just such playfulness tha led critics to question Lang's credi as a country artist, a view she and band (keyboardist Michael Cre bassist Dennis Merchenko, guit Gordie Mathews, stringman Ben and drummer Michel Pouliot) are ing to dispell on their current U.S. nadian tour. "People have dubious about where my intents are til they see me live," Lang told Box. "I think live the integrity co out.

"Unfortunately country has t this air of sophistication and the lost their sense of humor about th selves. I'm not making fun of cou music. If I am, I'm making fu myself."

At age 20, Lang played a cou western star patterned after the leg ary Patsy Cline in an Edmonton the piece, beginning a close appreciatio the late singer's style. Lang is consta compared to Cline by the media voice shares a certain depth and po with Cline), a thing she says she do mind as long as it isn't taken as a mick. Cline's influence has been a sonal one.

Meanwhile, Lang and her band busy collecting converts down her the states, duplicating the exciter already afoot in Canada.

LOS ANGELES–For the emotionally wrenched, war-battered 'grunts' in Oliver Stone's multiple Oscar-winning Platoon, songs are far more than simply a few odd notes and words strung together. They are instead nothing less than a lifeline home; a profoundly cathartic reminder of sanity in a world gone insane; an escape back to a time when death seemed a million years away instead of just around the corner.

Watching Platoon, you realize what careful attention was paid to the rol eof music; how brilliantly Stone employs both songs and orchestral pieces to juxtapose the aural

'OVER STORY

olin James Hay: Man At Work Goes Solo

By Paul Iorio

V YORK — Men at Work rocketed out ıe Melbourne, Australia clubs in 1982 a debut album that set the charts on Two years later, however, they were a h-and-burn story, as the band succ bed to internal squabbles. Now Men At k leader Colin James Hay has risen the ashes with "Looking For Jack" ımbia), a classy solo album that aims

One of the differences with this record," Hay, "was that I wasn't working within nd format. I could go back and look at ongs I've had for years and ask whether stand the test of time. And I could re- the best songs I had, not depending on her the rest of the band liked them or hey worked."

There were no rules really with what we rded," he says. "We were a lot more with what kind of songs we actually veral songs, including "I Don't Need Anymore" and "Master Of Crime," back to his Men At Work days. But the htier songs on the album are more re- ones like "Can I Hold You" (Hay's fa- e), "Hold Me" (the first single), and the tic title track.

Hold Me" draws heavily from South Af- music, much like Paul Simon's "Grace- ." "The Paul Simon thing was esting because that happened synch- tically," he says. "We actually finished lbum last August so it was done before Simon's came out. But you can't really ince people of that....I think that kind ing is an internal thing, it's inside; you r have a simpatico with all kinds of c or you don't."

ıe song "Looking For Jack," which is t the elusiveness of freedom, was in- d by meeting Jack Nicholson at a Los les party. "When I met Jack Nichol- he gave me the spark," he says. "Be- e I thought, if somebody said to me do you want to be? I'd say, well I ıa be like Jack Nicholson because Jack is cool, Jack doesn't f*ck up. And that's an illusion. Lots of people have heroes and say, 'I don't want to be me, I want to be this person'....Jack became (a symbol) for whatever-it-is-you-want-to-be. It gave me a really strong personification with which to wrap the song around."

"Fisherman's Friend," which is about a fisherman who finds that "he can't see anything/only what's ahead and what's washed up on shore," also works on many levels. "People never actually seem to learn from their mistakes," he explains. "The same mistakes get made. At a macro level, people are still killing each other, people are still dying of starvation. In this age of incredible technology, everyone still isn't fed. It's a sad thing to think that there may also be a basic inequality of life. To me, that song has a sense of sadness but in a really lovely way. The idea came from thinking what it would feel like to be a fisherman."

Hay says that such new songs as "Fisherman's Friend" and "Looking For Jack" will probably be included in concert alongside Men At Work hits like "Who Can It Be Now?" and "It's A Mistake" if he tours this year. But he is determined that his solo career will avoid the pitfalls that ended Men At Work.

"We had problems from day one," he says of Men At Work. "When I look back on it, it was extremely personal. This person didn't like that person, that person was starting not to trust this other person. And the personal differences and musical differences and philosophical differences. It just felt kind of awful for the last half of the American tour in 1983."

"I'm still kind of reeling from it in a way," he says. "What happened was so immense."

What happened was immense. "Business As Usual," their 1982 debut album, spent a record fifteen weeks at number one, spawning two number one singles in "Who Can It Be Now?" and "Down Under," and winning

EAST COASTINGS

ANY AWARDS program that closes with a set of fine gospel music (performed by the cast of Mama, I Want To Sing) has got plenty going for it already. Add to that Ronnie Spector singing "Be My Baby," Lou Reed playing "Rock 'n' Roll," and Buster Poindexter hugging Cissy Houston on the stage of the Beacon Theatre and you've got a major event. The second annual New York Music Awards (NYMA) was just that.

For the most part, the NYMA consistently gave awards to worthy local acts that don't get much recognition elsewhere. It was refreshing to see Peter Stampfel and the Bottlecaps win for Best Indie Album, Greg Trooper get the nod for Best New Male Vocalist, the Dancing Hoods win for Best New Band, and country singer Kristi Rose get as many awards (two) as Paul Simon, Whitney Houston, and Billy Joel. It was also heartening to see The Smithereens win three awards; afterwards they played an exciting mini-set that showed why they deserved to win.

The big surprise, though, is that the Beastie Boys were completely shut-out. They were nominated in six categories, and lost to Run-DMC in three, while losing to the Smithereens, Gregory Abbott, and the Bad Brains in the other three. What gives? "Licensed To Ill," the fastest selling debut album in Columbia Records history, is one of the few LPs that is both critically acclaimed and commercially successful. On paper, it looked as if they'd sweep the awards.

Why the shut-out? The reason is probably that voters had difficulty categorizing them. People know that Run-DMC are rap and the Smithereens are rock, but the Beasties are a little bit of both. To add further to the genre confusion, they were nominated in the hard core division as well, and were beat by a band that does that full-time, the Bad Brains. Other important acts, such as The Ordinaires, Mofungo, Lou Reed, The Feelies, Glenn Morrow's Rage To Live, LL Cool J, They Might Be Giants, The Del-Lords, the Golden Palominos, and others were also overlooked. But this awards ceremony was more inclusive than any in recent memory, and that's what made the difference.

NANCI GRIFFITH — Nanci Griffith recently brought her brand of 'folkabilly' to the Bottom Line. Her first album for MCA, "Lone Star State Of Mind," follows a string of successful releases on Rounder.

NANCI GRIFFITH, who recently played the Bottom Line, has a new album out called "Lone Star State Of Mind," her first for MCA. Griffith's previous albums were released on Rounder, where she was that label's best-selling artist for three years straight.

Griffith is a country/folk musician who values good songwriting above all else. Though she writes some of the album's best songs, outside writers contribute too. "I do a lot of songs by friends," she says. "I have a lot of friends who are also songwriters and we get around and sit in the living room and they say, here's one of mine."

SPINNIN' PARTY — That's Buster Poindexter talking with Eek-A-Mouse at Spin magazine's second anniversary party (3/19). Performing were Eek-A-Mouse and Soul Asylum.

But Griffith writes her own material far from the comfort of a living room. "I'm a road writer. I write all of my music on the road. It's a therapy I think. It keeps me company on the road and gives me something to do. I don't know what I'd do if I ever stopped going on the road because I wouldn't have anything to write about anymore."

"I never write anything down — never write down the music, never write down the lyrics," she says. "Because I always figure if I can't remember it, it wasn't worth it."

THOUGH SOME are trying to maximize and others are trying to minimize the disturbance that followed an Iron Maiden show at the Byrne Arena (3/29), some facts are not in dispute: two cars were burned and overturned, firemen were hit with bottles, someone backed his car into a police detective, and thirty-three people were arrested. Iron Maiden's manager commented on the incident in a statement: "Iron Maiden regrets the incident. We express our concern for the fireman and policeman who each received minor injuries as a result of the irresponsible actions of a handful of those who attended. Because of the unfortunate incident at the Meadowlands it is unlikely that Iron Maiden will play that facility again unless the specific problems relating to the parking lot are eliminated. It would be wrong to attribute such (incidents to) rock 'n' roll. Sports fans have become increasingly abusive and violent over the years. Look at what happened with the riots in Detroit in 1984 after the Tigers won the World Series. Music is not the cause of fan rowdyism. (Iron Maiden) has played to more than one million fans in more than twenty countries in the last six months without any negative incidents whatsoever."

TALENT ON STAGE

K. D. Lang

THE ROXY, L.A. — The kid's got talent. Does she ever! Sire's K.D. Lang has a voice that can prod cattle to polka or make otherwise composed folk get all dreamy-eyed. Is she country, is she pop . . . is she kidding? These and other questions permeated the pre-show buzz here recently. The answer, delivered with raucous energy by Lang and her frolicking band The Reclines, was all-of-the-above and none-of-the-above: Yes, the sound is country, but not purely; and yes the sound has a rock/pop edge, but not much; and yes, Lang does have fun with the cornier aspects of country, but her heart seems to be in the right place while she's doing so.

What Lang and her band proved here was that there is indeed an intersection where Patsy Cline's country blues, Frank Yankovic's polka, Rose Maddox' western swing and Gene Vincent's rockabilly can meet and intertwine in a barn-shaking square dance of styles.

Lang's rich, voluminous voice is a pleasure. With apparent ease and considerable stage poise, the former performance artist from the Canadian sticks nearly blew this venerable Sunset Strip venue off the boulevard with her deliciously resonant pipes.

It's true, Lang does sound a bit like country legend Patsy Cline (to whom she's been continually compared by the press), especially when covering the late singer's material. Lang opened the show with her own bluesy, downtempo rendition of Cline's torchy, barroom-busting "Don't Ever Leave Me Again," which she milked for every note while casually leaning on the keyboard stand singing to keyboardist Michael Creeber.

Much of the humor in her act - criticized for its apparent irreverence toward country music - was so subtle that it took sharp ears to catch it, while some was so broad that it was impossible to miss (such as the three cigarettes Lang manipulated while singing Cline's "Three Cigarettes In An Ashtray" - a romantic ballad whose ashtray imagery is so bizarre that it's funny).

The evening's line-up of tunes included the Joanie Sommers '60's pop hit "Johnny Get Angry," which was given particularly campy treatment. Working the tune into a violent climax (in which an imaginary "Johnny" finally hauls off and whallops her), Lang lay prone in silence for a good two minutes, only to bounce back and finish the song.

Lang and The Recline's country single, a rockabilly cover of Joe South's "Rose Garden" was delivered with infectious impact, featuring guitarist Gordie Mathews' strong instrumental lead.

"To dance is human," the singer exclaimed before charging into one of several polka numbers, "but to polka is devine!" And indeed, Lang and The Reclines, aided by Ben Mink's fiddle, brought enough vitality to this rather quaint (albeit rip-roaring) country dance tradition as to make it seem new.

Lang and her band's L.A. debut was refreshingly original. Much more than the mere novelty act much of this material might well have constituted in the hands of a less talented, endearingly witty singer and less superbly proficient musicians, this show had that ineffable magical edge that spells quality and longevity.

Don Pullen

THE PUBLIC THEATRE, N.Y.C. — Don Pullen, the volcanic modern jazz pianist and co-leader, with George Adams, of one of the finest bands in jazz, turned to his roots last Monday night for a terrifically entertaining evening at the Public Theatre. Nancy Weiss Hanrahan, who initiated a series of New Jazz at the Public Theatre commissions last year, had the ingenius idea of having Pullen organize a band around his organ playing — an instrument he used quite a bit in the organ-heavy '60s but had ignored in recent years.

From the first notes of the first tune, "Zet," Pullen made it clear where he was coming from — he was coming from the jukeboxes of the 1960s. For the most part, Pullen and his bandmates could have been recording for the Blue Note of 20 years ago. It was a refreshing, exceptionally enjoyable night of music.

Opening with a septet — drummer Bobby Battle, guitarist Melvin Sparks, trumpeter Joe Gardner, pianist Jeremy Bacon, alto saxophonist Charles Williams, and trombonist Frank Lacy — that was vintage Blue Note, Pullen churned out swirling, thick organ chords, stomped-off fine sturdy organ bass, and generally unleashed the down-homeist organ sound this side of Brother Jack McDuff. Right in there with him were Sparks, who cooked like crazy on "Blues at Hanna's House;" Williams, who cooked like crazy on a deep-fried "Send Me Someone To Love," and Battle, who cooked like crazy every second of the way. The big-toned Lacy also got in dandy licks in t group segment.

The Golden Palominos

THE PALACE, L.A.—The latest incarnation of Anton Fier's All-Star Travelling Road Show (known as The Golden Palominos) came galloping into Los Angeles last week and put on a stunning performance at the Palace.

Led up front by the vivacious vocalist Syd Straw, and grounded by drummer/founder Fier's relentless drive, the Palominos raced through a breathtaking two-hour set showcasing material from their latest Celluloid release,"Blast Of Silence." The energy was tangible throughout the hall as the L.A. crowd found itself caught up in the magic woven by these powerful and impassioned musicians.

Opening with Lowell George's exquisite "I've Been The One," then romping through Peter Holsapple's hooky "Diamond," the band quickly set the tone for the evening. Singer Straw proved her mettle early. With pigtails flying she pushed her sweet voice against the pedal steel tones of the opening number, working so hard her glasses flew off during the second song.

Hardly pausing for breath, the Palominos then unveiled one of their two trump cards of the evening—the addition of Matthew Sweet on bass and vocals, whose debut solo album, a true masterpiece of pop craft, was one of last year's unrecognized gems. His appealing, smooth voice, so silken on vinyl, translates well to the live setting, and he provides the band with matchless repertoire. Three songs from his album, including "Quiet Her" and the gorgeous "Blue Fools," were performed at the Palace show, and expanded the scope of the band's impact. "Something Becomes Nothing," his contribution to the Palominos' LP, worked well in the middle of the set.

Robert Kidney, the Palominos' third guitarist, was the proverbial other shoe dropping—he threatened to steal the show with his three frantic trips to center stage. A hyper-kinetic, emotional, spine-tingling performer, Kidney ripped off the Palace's roof with "The Push And The Shove," "Rock-A-Bye Soul," and his encore number. He sings, strums, and struts at an out-of-control pace that transports his bandmates and audience alike into a musical frenzy—keep an eye out for more from this wonderful guitarist.

Each member was given the opportunity to bask in the spotlight at least once, as guitarist Peter Blegvad (an uncanny Lennon look-alike—glasses and all) alternated singing lead with Straw. The two played well off each other, with Blegvad providing the night's first crescendo with a magnificent reading of the guitar rave-up "Work Was New," and teaming with Straw to set off sparks during "(Something Else Is) Working Harder."

Lead guitarist Jody Harris, his face obscured by a mass of brown hair and a blue baseball cap, boogied casually to himself all show long, yet provided stinging lead breaks that punctuated perfectly the Palominos' blues-based power-chording. Crowd favorite Bernie Worrell laid down funky, subtle keyboard lines and turned in a marvelous solo late in the show. He seemed especially at ease with Sweet's material, and the two obviously enjoyed their musical relationship.

Other highlights of a dramatic evening included an elegant rendition of opening act Victoria Williams' "Merry Go Round," featuring Straw and Sweet on vocals; the ubiquitous special guest—in this case Don Dixon, fresh from another local gig, rallying round to help out on encores with his brawny, bluesy "Faithless Heart"; and a powerful version of the Zeppelin classic "The Ocean" to finish out the night, complete with background "ooh-oohs" and enough raucous guitar/drum grunge for any self-respecting headbanger.

The Golden Palominos best asset on vinyl is the tense, taut sum of their collective parts—especially visible on Blegvad's and Kidney's contributions and on Michael Stipe's work on the previous album. Stipe was conspicuously absent here, but that intensely dynamic edge nonetheless became downright dangerous in a live situation. The Palominos combine superior rock and roll instincts with blues and country influences, and the backbeat of one of rock's best drummers, to create a deadly mix of intoxicating and provocative music guaranteed to please.

Graham Appointed, European Relations In Expansion of BMI's London Office.

LOS ANGELES—Phil Graham has been appointed as director of European relations for the London office of BMI.

Graham will assist Robert Musel, chief of European relations for the performing rights organization.

The announcement came from BMI president and CEO, Frances Preston, who said, "The growing international character of the music business makes it increasingly important for BMI to assure that it has the capability to provide service both to BMI writers and publishers whose product is licensed abroad and to Europeans who license their product in the U.S. Phil's experience in writer and publisher relations with BMI over the past seven years will increase our capability to provide service in both directions."

Preston noted that BMI is the only performing rights society that compensates performing rights societies abroad at the same time that it pays its own affiliated writers and publishers at home.

Graham has served for the past seven years in writer/publisher relations for BMI. Most recently, he was director of writer relations representing BMI with a wide spectrum of contacts in the rock, pop, R&B, country and gospel genres. Prior to joining BMI, he worked in several positions in the record industry, including posts with CBS Records as well as with retail and record manufacturing companies.

SONYA—Sonya Robinson—Columbia FC 40251—Producer: Jean-Paul Bourelly

A spiky blend of styles—there's a bit of everything here—enhances this debut album from a violinist whom Miles Davis, on the cover, compares to Stuff Smith and Ray Nance. A bright, contemporary electronic brew has been cooked up here by guitarist/composer/producer Bourelly, who has enlisted Gerri Allen, Vincent Herring and other modern comers for the date.

ORIENT EXPRESS—Carla White—Milestone M-9147—Producer: Carla White

Solid mainstream jazz singing from a New York club veteran with an attractive voice and delivery.

CAN'T TAKE YOU NOWHERE—David Frishberg—Fantasy F-9651—Producer: David Frishberg

The munchkin-voiced singer, briskly-swinging pianist and wry lyricist in a refreshing live date mixing originals and standards.

ON JAZZ

FURTHER FESTIVITIES—Well, as was detailed in the news pages last week, the upcoming JVC/New York Jazz Festival looks like a good one. The programming is relatively imaginative, and I'm already looking forward to such treats as the reunion of the original Ornette Coleman Quartet, the debut of the star-filled (Sam Rivers, James Williams, Daniel Ponce, Frank Wess, Jon Faddis, Britt Woodman, etc.) Dizzy Gillespie Big Band (Ornette and Dizzy are on the same night, at the same time—can you believe that?—but, hopefully, a late show will be added to one of them), the teaming of Sarah Vaughan and Bobby McFerrin (if they don't do a number together, I'll cry), Sun Ra's solo piano concert, and the evening in tribute to Hank Jones. Last year, JVC didn't commit to the New York affair until rather late, but this year their commitment seems strong and, according to Festival producer George Wein, they're is committed to at least a couple of years in New York. Bravo!

JVC, which also sponsors several of Wein's other festivals around the world, is stepping up that department as well. Three cities have been added to the U.S. JVC Jazz Festival Tour: Minneapolis, Madison, Wisconsin, and Houston. They will be joining Chicago, Atlanta, Newport, Concord, California, and Los Angeles. And JVC will do another PBS special from the Newport Festival. JVC also sponsors major jazz festivals in The Hague, Holland, Nice, and London. A very impressive commitment to jazz that may not last forever—what does?—but it's good to have it as long as it's here.

Other festivals on the slate are the Jazz on the Lake Festival, set for June 27 in Garberville, California and headlining Pete Escovedo; and Gresham, Oregon's Mt. Hood Festival of Jazz, set for Aug. 1 & 2 and featuring Doc Severinsen and the Tonight Show Orchestra, Mel Torme, George Shearing and Wynton Marsalis.

BOPPING AROUND—Hey, good for Herbie Hancock. Not only did he win an Oscar for Round Midnight, but he made a damned fine acceptance speech. It's not everyday that Charlie Parker, Thelonious Monk, Bud Powell, Lester Young and, for that matter, Dexter Gordon get touted in front of a billion people...Outer space, get ready. New York's WKCR-FM (89.9), coming off impressive marathons of the blues and the music of Billie Holiday, is about to unloose 116 hours—that's 116 hours non-stop—of the music of Sun Ra and his various Arkestras. It all begins on April 16 at noon and continues through April 21 at 1 a.m. A cosmic time is guaranteed for all...And speaking of the former Herman Blount, the Brooklyn Academy of Music will host Sun Ra with a 100-plus piece Arkestra, playing the music of Basie, Henderson, Ellington, and Ra, some time this fall...WBGO-FM, the other jazz voice in town, has been holding Friday night jazz concerts at Newark's Symphony Hall, sponsored by Gilbey's Gin. Coming up are Arthur Prysock (4/23), the Art Farmer/Benny Golson Jazztet (5/8), Tito Puente (5/22), and Abbey Lincoln (5/29)...I guess I've heard of stranger ideas, but New York's Blue Note—the jazz club that thinks of itself as some sort of jazz kingdom—has inaugurated a series of star tables. That's right, you are very likely to be sitting at a table imbedded with the name of a Blue Note headliner—sort of like Graumann's Chinese Theatre on four legs—and, if you turn out opening night, you can witness the elaborate presentation-of-the-table ceremony...The Illinois Jacquet Big Band, a rough-and-tumble jazz ensemble if there ever was one, is about to head off for a European tour: they open in Lyon on May 4th...Books, books, books. I will be going on at length about these in a couple of weeks, but, in the meantime, I'd like to point out that the following jazz books have recently been issued: Jazz: Myth and Religion by Neil Leonard ($16.95, Oxford University Press), Buck Clayton's Jazz World* by Buck Clayton ($19.95, Oxford University Press), Queen of the Blues: A Biography of Dinah Washington by James Haskins ($16.95, William Morrow), Alberta Hunter: A Celebration in Blues by Frank C. Taylor ($17.95, McGraw-Hill), and I Remember Jazz: Six Decades Among the Great Jazzmen by Al Rose ($24.95, Louisiana State University Press).

Los Angeles' Power 106 (KPWR) have recently made vast additians ta their staff: Jill Lofton has been named Ca-ap Coor- dinatar af the statian; Nancy Brazil has jained Pawer 106 as Accaunt Ex- ecutive; Charlene Richardson has been named KPWR's new Traffic Man- ager; Alma Romo has been pramat- ed ta Continuity Director at Power; and Sheri Chinen-Biesen has been appainted Sales Assistant af the station . . . and finally, Casey Ka- sem ("Mr. Rack and Rall"), will re- ceive the distinguished Alumni Award fram Wayne State University in Detroit an April 23, and yau can be sure we'll keep yau pasted . . .

Powerhouse III— As pramised a cauple af issues back, we praudly pre- sent a full repart an the recent Pawer 106 (KPWR-FM) birthday bash. Held at Hallywaad's famed Palace, the fes- tivities featured live cancert perfar- mances and special guests celebrating KPWR's birthday. Luminaries spatted at the festivities (modestly excluding aurselves, af course) included a dap- per Herb Alpert, Vesta Wil- liams (nat Vanessa as originally promised), Richard Moll (af Night Court), Stacey Q., party girl E.G. Daily, Jesse Johnson, and (for- mer MTV veejay) Nina Blackwood. The evening was highlighted by live-ta- track perfarmances fram such KPWR mainstays as The Cover Girls, Nancy Martinez, Jeff Lorber with Karyn White, Exposé, Howard Hewett, and Georgio. The food was terrific, the beers were free, and the event was dedicated ta the T.J. Martell Foundation for Cancer Research. P.S.: Many thanks ta Linda Glick fram TSR Records far the Dr. Dave single.

Speaking of Power . . . And we were, Cleveland's Pawer 108 (WDMT-FM) will change its format (from B/C to Power) and its calls (ta WPHR) an April 9. After the ah-so- quick demise af Urban-slanted WNCX, it appears that the Buzzard is primed far anather challenge. Best of luck to Calvin Hicks and the rest af the WPHR staff.

Bob Geldof recently stopped by Source Studios in New York to speak with Source Music correspondent Lisa Karlin. Geldof talked about his new autobiography "Is That It," and the difficulty in keeping up his im- age as a rock musician when the rest of the world regards him as a "saint." Pictured (l to r): Michael Hughes, Source Program Manager; Geldof; Karlin; Mike Bau, NBC Radio Intern; and Betzy Torres, Source Engineer.

And finally . . . Peter Holm, seeking divarce fram Joan Collins, is claiming that $80,000 per manth ali- many is nat enaugh ta suppart him. We wish we had such problems. Any- way, WNBC evening drive personality Alan Colmes feels badly far the paar guy, sa he's running a Radiathan during his shaw ta raise gaads and services to help him out. Collins' law- yer, Marvin Mitchelson, was the first to pledge: he danated his old leather jacket.

KEVIN'S HAPPENING MIX—Kevin Fleming pragram director af the legendary radia statian KGFJ, Las Angeles is ta be cammended far the simply outstanding job he has and is daing. Kevin has blended the best of the heart and saul format with the top records of today. It is very apparent that Kevin spends a lat af time listening ta new music, because he is playing and B-R-E-A-K-I-N-G records. I might add that I really enjoyed the two haur musical tribute to the late Marvin Gaye, which was hasted by Mike Roberts af WVEE in Atlanta. Caming up April 17, 1987 will be a special tribute, 48 hours of music by the legendary godfather of saul, James Brown. Keep on bringing us the 30 years of music combined with the best of today. KGFJ is awned by anather midwesterner by birth Mr. William Shearer fram Calumbus, Ohio. Cangratulatians Bill, Kevin and the entire staff on o jab well done.

AL GEE IS RECOVERING—Al Gee president of Rendezvous Records and one time tap radia persanality in New York is resting camfartobly while recavering fram a mild stroke. Al hos been very busy warking his project on O.C. Smith that has garnered major activity araund the country the last few manths. According to Charlie Wallert praducer and co-writer an many of the tunes on the album, Al is resting and is expected ta make a 100% recovery. To his many friends and associates around the country wha wish ta find out more can call Charlie at Rendezvaus Records at (718) 622-4497.

WQIM LOOKING FOR PROS—Frenche Bè pragram directar af WQIM Prattville, Alobomo, is laaking for professional radio onnauncers with at least 2 years experience. Applicants must be able to follow format. Send tapes and resume to Frenche Bè, Program Directar, WQIM P.O. COUNTRY PROFILES

ll Ingram—Music Director
'RD-FM—Rosenberg, TX

SENBERG—Bill Ingram, that friendly
y from Texas who laughs a lot, is a self-:lared "one-station man". He's also a y dedicated one-woman man. He and wife Donah have worked together in lio for the most part since they've met, in music, and she in news. He also seems be a one-state man; although he's rked in different markets, he's stayed in
as. And, every station he's worked for been country. He's one of those stable, )py people, who knows what he wants
l is happy because he has it.
'I knew I wanted to be in radio all my
," Bill says, "There was no question about it". After high school, he found a job at KPSL-FM in Dibol. "I was so bad I only lasted two weeks," he says, although that's hard to believe. "They couldn't handle me and I got my walking papers." Bill figured if this was what he wanted to do, he needed to get experience, and get better at it.

So, next he got in with a company that would give him a certain kind of experience which would come in handy at radio stations further down the line. The company was Three-Star Productions in Houston, where Bill sold tv time and got in on the production end of it. Through this position, he was able to build his confidence back up. And after six months, he was ready to try radio again. When a friend at KJCH in Cleveland asked him to "help out on the weekends", he said "OK!" Then when he got there and dug in, his friend (and others at the station) said, "Hey! You're not bad!" Next thing you know, Bill was offered a full-time position and he took them up on it. "I knew I needed a lot of practice and I went for it", he says.

While he was still at KJCH, Bill started working for another station in the same county, KPXE. That was when he decided he was a one-station man. "I couldn't keep the call letters straight", he says. "Some people can do it [work at two stations at once], I 'm not one of them".

So he stuck with just the one, KJCH, and it wos there that he met the woman that would become his wife, when she came in and got a job in the news department. Both Bill and Donah worked in the mornings, and it wasn't long before they fell in love and got hitched! Pure radio love. That's nice, isn't it?

So for four more years Bill & Donah worked at the station, making a total of five and a half for Bill, when another offer came open for him, ond Donah. (They kind of came as a team). Another friend (when you're a friendly guy like Bill, friends abound) at WTAW in Bryan College Station had the two for awhile. Now all this time, Bud Smith, general manager at KFRD-FM was wanting Bill for a MD, but he hadn't had the right openings at the right time for Bill and Donah, and one day he did. The time was right, and the Ingrams went to Rosenberg.

"KFRD is the first real nice FM station I've worked for", Bill says. "The format is wide open, the people are great, I love it". He's been MD there now for two years. Meanwhile, Donah has moved on to a more focused niche at an all-news station in Houston, just 20 miles away from where Bill works. "We're real fortunate", Bill says. "We both are dedicated to our jobs and love what we do and understand that in each other".

So Bill appreciates what he has. He could have given up after that first rejection when he started out, but he didn't let that stop him: "If you know what you want to do, you've got to get in there and fight, cause that's the only way you're gonna make it".

GREENVILLE, MS

WGVM—TROY WALKER—PROGRAM/MUSIC DIRECTOR

PROMOTION—LUCKY BUCKS!

Ever looked at the serial numbers on your dollar bills? People in Greenville sure are these days. WGVM has circulated approximately $1,000 dollar bills around the community, at department stores, grocery stores, etc. The station announces serial numbers of these bills ten times a day, Monday through Saturday. The owner of the lucky bucks needs to call in within 12 minutes, then bring the bill to the station by 5:00 to cash in on maybe $50, $100, $500, or more in prizes!

So . . . has everybody got their bags packed and ready to go to Greenville?

RFUL SHOOT—MCA recording artists Kansas recently shot a video for "Can't Cry 're" their latest single from their album "Power." The video was shot in Los Angeles by Jim Yukich for Split Screen.*

AUDIO/VIDEO

HBO TAKES OVER—Home Box Office, Inc. is taking steps to acquire all of the Cannon Group's 50 percent interest in HBO/Cannon Video. An agreement in principal has thus far been reached - a deal reports say involves around $5 million. Once the acquisition is inked, the company will be called, simply enough, HBO Video. The move is said to based on Cannon's failure to come up with enough programming to satisfy HBO's ambitions, though a press release from Cannon quotes president Yoram Globus as saying the acquisition is occurring primarily because all Cannon video product will be licensed in the U.S. and Canada to either Warner Bros. or Media Home Entertainment. Cannon's reported shakey financial standing is said to be another reason for the HBO move (Cannon recently jettisoned 2,000 titles from its Screen Entertainment library to the Weintraub Entertainment Group).

CBS/FOX VIDEO SPORTS— That's the name of the new sports video label recently introduced by CBS/Fox Video, which includes a deal with NBA Entertainment. The deal struck by the two companies is an exclusive worldwide agreement that promises a wide variety of basketball programming, utilizing past, current and future NBA footage, and includes all previously released NBA programs (which will be repackaged and redistributed by CBS/Fox Video Sports). Sponsorship arrangements with new and current sponsors will be sought for the programs, plus new channels of distribution, such as direct mail and sales at sporting goods stores and game sites. Releases on the new label will include several NBA team highlight films, bloopers, individual athlete career highlights, amazing plays and instructional-motivational tapes. The first releases from the new label, due next month, include Dr. J's Basketball Stuff, a career tribute and instructional program featuring Julius "Dr. J" Erving of the Philadelphia 76ers (the first NBA tape under the new deal), and *Play Ball! With Mickey Mantle: Baseball Beyond the Basics Featuring Gary Carter and Tom Seaver. Heading the new division will be Ken Ross, director of sports and music programming at CBS/Fox Video.

OUT-RATING THE GRAMMYS— Here's an interesting little television tid bit: according to The Shefrin Company, publicists of the event, last week's Academy of Country Music Awards (known as the "Hat" awards) pulled in an 18.6 rating, while the Grammys pulled in an 18.3, even though the show was up against the Hagler/Leonard fight, and wasn't even aired in the Boston market. Not bad, eh? We've heard country music is experiencing a comeback from the slump following the Urban Cowboy period, aided by a shot of fresh blood from "New Traditionalist" artists like Dwight Yoakam and Randy Travis. Could this be an indication? Incidentally, Kudos to Dick Clark Productions for another seamless show.

HEY THERE—From RCA/Columbia Pictures Home Video next month comes '60's classic* Georgy Girl.

ELTON TO HOMEVID & CABLE—Pop superstar Elton John, who recently signed with MCA Records, has a cable outing and a home video in the wings along with his forthcoming debut MCA release, "Elton John Live In Australia With The Melbourne Symphony Orchestra" - all three of which (sharing the same title) are scheduled to appear in July. The cable show, for the Showtime Cable Network, features John in concert in the last performance of his Australian tour. A home video of the show will be distributed by by J 2 Communications (internationally by Virgin Video).

Gregory Dobrin

THE RELEASE BEAT

From Vestron MusicVideo in late May comes Pat Benatar - The Visual Music Collection, a collection of 12 music videos, including Painted Desert (exclusive, so far, to this release). Suggested retail price for this hour-long tape is $19.95, stereo HiFi, VHS and Beta . . . From Atlantic Video in May comes The Manhattan Transfer Live and Dance Traxx. The Manhattan Transfer Live features the singing quartet in a concert in Tokyo, including nineteen songs. The 80-minute tape retails for a suggested $24.95, stereo VHS HiFi. Dance Traxx is a video party tape, featuring a cross-section of artists, including Nu Shooz, Regina, Nancy Martinez, Mel & Kim and Stacey Q. The tape runs 26 minutes. Suggested retail price is $16.98, VHS HiFi stereo.

GOODY! GOODY?—A four-color pull-out advertisement appeared in a recent Sunday edition of the Los Angeles Times for the 75 Sam Goody Stores which recently took on the new moniker for all former Southern California Licorice Pizza and Musicland stores. While the ad does acknowledge that the stores are new here, the fact that they are replacing the well-known free-standing Licorice Pizza name (which is mentioned in conspicuously small print) is somewhat curious. Why change the name of a solid retailer in the marketplace? Although the name change had only taken place in the last month or so, it seems like the ad assumes that Sam Goody stores have been here all the time as it didn't mention anything about the fairly sudden appearance of the chain on the West Coast. The Musicland Group, the specialty retailing segment of its parent, The American Can Company, soon to be known as the Primerica Corporation, acquired the Sam Goody chain, mostly mall locations, in 1978. Musicland currently operates 525 retail outlets in 46 states, 73 of which are Sam Goody stores located in New York, Philadelphia, Washington/Baltimore and Houston.

RETAIL RAPPING—A panel entitled—music retailing "where it all pays off" which was recently one of several panels presented at the third annual Music Business Symposium held in Los Angeles at the Ambassador Hotel earlier this month, proved to be quite interesting and informative. The panel was moderated by Toni Profera, a senior editor with Hits magazine and included Norman Hunter, manager of product development for the 128-store Record Bar chain, Tom Gracyk, vice president of sales & marketing for Moby Disc, a three-store operation located in the San Fernando valley, Jane Neches, national director of single sales for A&M Records, Colin Stewart, vice president of marketing for EMI America, Ruth Blackman, marketing director of Image Marketing and Scott Martin, president of SRO Marketing Research Services. Notably absent, although listed on the panel program, were Stan Goman of Tower Records, and Mitch Perliss of Music Plus. Of the panelists, Hunter proved to be very informative as well as very funny. To the question, how do retailers decide what product to buy and how much, Hunter answered, "I find a Ouija board works well. It's still basically guesswork." Several important points were made by all—The significance of independent and small chains in breaking new acts and how word-of-mouth as well as clerk "suggestive selling" works for them. Hunter reiterated what Peter Glen had said at the recent NARM convention that retail clerks are one of the "most important and most ignored" elements of retail. Some suggestions were to educate clerks about new product through promos, (which, it seems, many store managers hoard for themselves), make the environment more fun to work in, after all, most clerks are there because they love music despite the minimum wage most earn. While the topic of DAT and the cassette single were brought up, the issue of DAT was not touched upon. Too hot to handle? Neches, whose label A&M recently introduced the Bryan Adams cassette single, admitted that no consumer research as to the interest in this latest format had been conducted prior to its introduction. "Unfortunately, we really didn't. It had already been decided," she said. They did have listening parties and postcard mail-outs afterwards. The basic consensus of the panel was that their cassette single was selling, but since A&M provided special counter displays possibly making the single an impulse item, it will be hard to judge the feasibility. Indeed, Gracyk said there was "not enough profit to refixture." With the increasing bombardment of configurations to both the consumer and the retailer, Hunter joked, "I'm gonna pull out all my fixtures and sell out of boxes. Maybe Tower has the right idea. Stack it to the ceiling." It was pointed out that sales for the 7 inch single, once a steady seller for retailers and now used mostly by radio stations for adds or drops, has dropped significantly. Yet, Martin of SRO said a retail survey showed conflicting results. "I really hate to say it, but 65 percent said they don't think it will be a viable configuration. Only 37 percent said 7 inch vinyl sales were on the downswing," he said. Sales will tell and consumer awareness will be important all agreed. To the question that many older consum... are driven out of stores because st... employees play loud music, Hunter ... knowledged the problem adding th... Abbott, Cameo, Run-D.M.C Sweep New York Music Awards

By Paul Iorio

NEW YORK — The big winners in the second annual New York Music Awards (NYMA) were Gregory Abbott, Cameo, and Run-DMC, who each won four awards. The NYMA, which started last year as a corrective to the Grammys, gave awards to a wide variety of acts in forty-eight categories.

Other multiple winners were the Smithereens with three awards, and Billy Joel, Whitney Houston, Paul Simon, and Kristi Rose with two each. In addition, Joel, Ronnie Spector, The Fantasticks, and Bill Graham were inducted into the Hall Of Fame.

"It was immeasurably more successful than last year's show," says Robbie Woliver, NYMA director. "All the major stars showed up for it. And the ones who were out of the country personally sent people to represent them."

The awards ceremony, held April 4 at the Beacon Theatre, also featured live performances by Lou Reed, the Force MDs, the Smithereens, the Nails, Ronnie Spector, Kristi Rose, and others.

Next year, the NYMA will face stiff competition from the Grammys, which will be held in New York. "I think we're going to show the Grammys what a really great awards show is," says Woliver. "We're different from them; the Grammys are the glitz and we're the guts."

Here are the winners in the major categories:
Group Of The Year: Run-D.M.C.
Solo Artist Of The Year: Whitney Houston
Outstanding Debut Act: Gregory Abbott
Outstanding Rock Band: the Smithereens
Best Rock Album (Solo Artist): "Graceland"/Paul Simon

with the visual. And since March 12, record-buyers have had a chance to hear that music (and more) on the increasingly popular soundtrack from the film, released by Atlantic. Featured on the LP are touches of just about every musical style imaginable; from rock to R&B to pop to country to classical. Yet, this is no random collection of tracks ironed out over a couple of "power lunches." It is instead the result of careful planning and endless persistance on the part of Stone and Budd Carr, the soundtrack's executive producer.

Despite a miniscule music budget, the makers of Platoon wound up involving several record labels based on the strength of the project. Consequently, the soundtrack includes Smokey Robinson's "Tracks Of My Tears" (recently re-released by Motown as a single); Jefferson Airplane's "White Rabbit" (re-releaseed by RCA as a single); and Merle Haggard's "Okie From Muskogee" (courtesy of Capitol). Also on the LP are The Doors' "Hello, I Love You;" the Rascals' "Groovin';" Aretha Franklin's "Respect," Otis Redding's "(Sittin' On) The Dock Of The Bay;" and Percy Sledge's "When A Man Loves A Woman," now out as a single on Atlantic. Rounding out the soundtrack is an original piece by composer Georges Delerue and two versions (one with narration by Platoon co-star Charlie Sheen) of Samuel Barber's poignant and evocative "Adagio For Strings," performed by the Vancouver Symphony Orchestra.

Four days after his film captured Best Picture honors at the Academy Awards, Platoon's executive producer and Helmdale Film CEO John Daly spoke to Cash Box about this decidedly unusual soundtrack. "The choice of music really came from Oliver's experiences from that time," he first commented. "It was all part of his personal story, not something we suddenly decided on after the film was halfway done. Every song utilized in the film or on the soundtrack had special meaning for him. These are songs which seemed to perfectly complement those times; they evoke both feelings of loneliness and comraderie. In many ways, they were the unsung heroes of the period. There's been a lot of use and misuse of sound music in the past, but I think these songs were completely justified in being chosen. You couldn't wish for a more ideal score."

While Daly obviously had a great deal to do with the realization of Stone's ten-year quest to film Platoon, he nevertheless attributes the high calibre of its musical contents to Stone and Carr. "This was Oliver's film all the way," he said. "And Budd should get all the credit for negotiating the deals which secured the songs. Some films have music budgets higher than the entire budget for Platoon, but the labels were incredibly cooperative and supportive of what we were doing and cleared a lot of tracks for us. There was a spirit surrounding this picture which was contagious. What could have been a difficult process was made significantly easier because of the faith so many people had in the film. These labels are bombarded constantly for rights to use their masters, but I believe they felt in this instance that the film was saying something very important.

"I also think the artists themselves would have wanted their music used exactly as it was," Daly continued. "It was clear that this was more than just a film or another Hollywood deal. The record companies understandably have to protect their business positions, but no one took a stance and said, 'you can't have this unless we get that.' "

As mentioned, Stone et al not only chose pop music, but also classically-oriented orchestral music to echo the senseless brutality depicted in Platoon. No piece serves to better illustrate the impact of that blending better than "Adagio For Strings," as it powerfully contrasts the beauty of musical creativity against the horror of war-time destruction. According to Daly, "When I saw the completed film, no scene stood out more than the one in which Elias is dying in a rather Christ-like fashion and the 'Adagio' is playing. It's an amazingly emotional moment, and one which showcases the sense of quality and sincerity in the picture. George (Delerue) supplemented the score magnificently, but even he would likely admit to taking somewhat of a backseat to 'Adagio,' because nothing can compare to it really."

Without question, Daly is particularly grateful for Atlantic's belief in the Platoon soundtrack, and commitment to the album regardless of its commercial vitalility. "They've been absolutely wonderful from day one," he mentioned. "They've done a first class job, and I hope it's a rewarding one for them. I know they considered it a prestige release no matter how it did commercially. There are good feelings all around and they've been nothing but kind to us all along. It's truly been a perfect combination of the film world and the music world."

Plans are now in the works for a sequel to Platoon, one which Daly vows will definitely not be yet another of those rushed, artificially anemic follow-ups so rampant in Hollywood these days. In fact, Stone will once again write and direct the picture based on his 'track' record, that come as good news to both movie goe music lovers.

Concern was voiced by the PTA's Kahn that she and others were being lumped together with the "Jimmy Swaggarts" over their concern for lyrical content. "Do not visit the sins of the Swaggarts and others on people who care as much about this issue as you do," she told the audience.

The panel served as a forum in which many of the expected views from either side were voiced. Zappa, one of the most subdued of the panel members, appeared tired of the issue, saying (when time came for him to leave the debate), "I hope to never have to see another one of these rancid symposiums on this topic again."

COLUMBIA SIGNS WILCOX—Columbia Pictures Music Group has signed Willie Wilcox as an exclusive staff songwriter. Wilcox, formerly a writer/performer with Todd Rundgren and Utopia, has written for and/or produced such artists as The Pointer Sisters, Jennifer Holiday, and The New Monkees, and most recently wrote and co-produced (with Jon St. James) the #1 dance single "We Connect" performed by Atlantic recording artist Stacey Q. Pictured are (l-r): Scott Holtzman, vp legal affairs, Columbia Pictures Music Group; Marty Ross, member of The New Monkees; Lonnie Sill, professional manager, Columbia Pictures Music Group; Larry Saltis, member of The New Monkees; Willie Wilcox, staff songwriter, Columbia Pictures Music Group; Dino Kovas, member of The New Monkees; Bill Green, director, Music publishing, Columbia Pictures Music Group.

25 YEARS AGO IN CASH BOX

April 21, 1962—The merger of Decca Records and the Music Corporation of America, the giant producing-talent firm, a strong trade rumor since last fall, reached the point of "imminent"' and "may be any day" last week...Album reviews: "The Electrifying Aretha Franklin" (Columbia). Aretha Franklin unleashes her powerful vocal and keyboard talents in a dozen evergreens which showcase her gospel-trained style. Although this thrush is a newcomer to the trade, she has made some important chart inroads with her recent best-selling singles "Rock-A-Bye Your Baby," "Rough Lover," and "I Surrender Dear."..."The Bridge," Sonny Rollins (RCA). Sonny Rollins, who has been on a two-year sabbatical, comes up with his first album since his "retirement" and offers proof positive of his superior relaxed, free-flowing musical talents. The tenor saxist has cut a first-rate set which should appeal to both conservative and new-wave jazz buffs-...Jackie Wilson, the Brunswick label's star songster, makes his first stand at New York's Copacabana nitery this week. Performer is currently clicking with "Hearts."...Teen-market cleffers Barry Mann and his wife Cynthia Weill represent strong behind-the-success in today's disk scene after only a year of writing together. The pair has collaborated on four tunes that are current Top 100 entries. They are "Uptown" by The Crystals (38), "If A Woman Answers" (46) by LeRoy Van Dyke, "Come Back Silly Girl" by The Lettermen (49) and "Conscience" by Jimmy Darren (68)...Single review: "Touch Me," Willie Nelson. Willie Nelson who is currently cashing in on "Willingly," a vocal duet with Shirley Collie, seems to have another hot item which could score in the coin department with "Touch Me." The tune is a shuffle-beat, slow-tempo blues side essayed with loads of country authority by the songster...Top five singles: 1. "Johnny Angel," Shelly Fabares. 2. "Mashed Potato Time," Dee Dee Sharpe. 3. "Good Luck Charm," Elvis Presley. 4. "Soldier Boy," the Shirelles. 5. "Slow Twistin'," Chubby Checker.

have or will be recording artists for labels include: Robbie Nevil, Kashif, Lala (both of whom have LPs scheduled for release this month) and Lee Greenwood.

Closer ties with their own record company, MCA Records, have resulted in many ground floor deals including Kansas, Ready For The World, Colonel Abrams, Loose Ends, and the Breakfast Club whose single "Right On Track" appears to be just that. In these cases, they have had easier access to upcoming recording dates where their writers and producers are well-suited for a project and are available.

MCA Music has recently reorganized their operations, expanding to New York a three-album live project for Cafe Records. Despite the odd break—Rich disbanded briefly in the early-'70s and spent time involved with a New York jazz club that bore his name—the Rich Band was on the road most of that time (including a couple of tours with Frank Sinatra). When Rich underwent a quadruple heart bypass several years ago, he was back in his drum seat after less than a month.

Traps, the Boy Wonder was, for 67 years, never less than a wonder. At press time, there was talk of a memorial concert, being organized by Rich's old roommate Frank Sinatra, to help raise money to pay Rich's medical expenses.

Chris Taylor captures ACM's D.J. of the Year Award

Cash Box reporter Chris Taylor of KIXZ-Amarillo won the Academy of Country Music's Deejay of the Year award, which is determined by a ballot vote by record promoters, label executives and trade magazines, among other industry personnel.

Taylor says he was "speechless" when he found out he won the award. "It was one of the few times in my life I've been speechless," he laughs, "And it made me very happy. I haven't had the chance to say thank you and I would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone who voted for me."

Unlike most of the other awards given out by the academy, there were no nominees in the Deejay category, just one winner. Taylor was notified previous to the awards so he could be present for the show.

In Taylor's 20 years in radio, he has worked for several stations, including KYSM-Manchester, KOLM-Rochester, WMAD-Madison, KNNN-Omaha and KSO-Des Moines.

He has been at KIXZ for three and a half years and is now PD and MD. Taylor has carried on the tradition set by his grandfather and father as radio personalities.

IT'S A BIG HAT TO FILL—But Reba McEntire was up to it. Charlie Daniels couldn't make it to the Dream-Makers Celebrity Waiters Luncheon. However, Reba was wearing his hat so the crowd could make a bid on it at the auction held after the luncheon. By the way, Charlie's hat brought the most dollars for the Dream-Makers' cause.

ALBUM REVIEWS

JOHN CONLEE—American Faces—Columbia FC 40442—(Producer: B. Logan)

Pure country charm makes Conlee's sound blend into contemporary arrangements for a perfect marriage. "Domestic Life" sets the mood for an album that should be very appealing to Blue Collar America. Conlee paints different pictures with his presentations of songs like "Love, Crazy Love" and the title cut. From Smalltown, U.S.A. to the Big City Streets, to a sailing trip to China, John Conlee takes us along, and this listener never left till the trip was over.

CHARLY McCLAIN—Still I Stay—Epic FE 40534—(Producers: The Sneed Brothers (D. Morgan, S. Davis)

Charly's clear, crisp voice rings out on the material contained here, and even though she doesn't have her counterpart crooning along, the love songs are just as romantic. Strong cuts are the ballad "Still I Stay", the 50's-flavored "What Makes Love Go 'Round And 'Round" and the Bob-McDill-penned "Old Flame, New Fire" (written with P. Harrison).

OUT OF THE BOX

RANDY TRAVIS (Warner Bros. 7-28384) Forever And Ever, Amen (3:31) (Writers Group/Scarlet Moon-BMI/MCA/Don Schlitz-ASCAP) (P. Overstreet/D. Schlitz) (Producer: K. Lehning)

Another heartfelt confession song, which perfectly fits the sound and style of Randy Travis. If it's any indication of the strength of his forthcoming LP, he need not worry about the sophomore jinx. Travis' now-unmistakeable style will no doubt take this snappy little song of undying love to the upper notches of the chart. With quality material like this, Randy's quality voice just may be around "forever and ever (Amen)."

FEATURE PICKS

HOLLY DUNN (MTM PB-72082) Love Someone Like Me (3:09) (Lawyers Daughter—BMI/Uncle Artie—ASCAP) (H.Dunn, R.Foster) (Producer: T.West)

Dunn sustains the quality of music flowing from her pen (with co-writer Radney) and through the studio mike—and West ain't no slouch either. Great sound.

STEVE WARINER (MCA 53068) The Weekend (3:48) (Screen Gems-EMI—BMI) (B. LaBounty, B. Foster) (Producers: T. Brown, J. Bowen)

Perfect listening for the cool summer evenings quickly approaching. Steve's vocals fit this breezy, laid-back tune nicely.

NANCI GRIFFITH (MCA 53082) Trouble In The Fields (3:18) (Wing And Wheel, adm. by Bug—BMI) (N. Griffith, R. West) (Producers: T. Brown, N. Griffith)

Griffith woefully tells another farmer's tale in her folk style, spiced with strings. Her album sales indicate that a growing audience still exists for folk.

RICKY VAN SHELTON (Columbia 38-07025) Crime Of Passion (3:14) (Rick Hall-ASCAP/Beginner-BMI) (W. Aldridge, M. McAnally) (Producer: S. Buckingham)

Spunky. Newcomer Van Shelton should continue to gain support with this "bopping" story-song. Super vocals.

ASCAP PROUD TO HAVE PRIDE—Charley Pride recently took some time out from his recording schedule to sign a writer's membership agreement with ASCAP. Merlin Littlefield (l), associate director of ASCAP, and Connie Bradley (r), southern executive director, look pleased about the signing. We agree with what seems to be Charley's expression, "Well, they should be!"*

NASHVILLE CHATTER

The 22nd Annual Academy of Country Music Awards Show began the evening of April 6 with co-hosts Patrick Duffy and The Judds on stage. However, before the evening was over, a long-awaited, well deserved moment brought Hank Williams Jr. to that spot as the Entertainer of the Year. The standing ovation reflected the overwhelming approval of Hank's peers. He told the audience and the national TV viewers (with a sly smile) that there was no need to be "afraid" of him. To quote Hank Jr., "I'm as gentle as a lamb, and just as sweet as sugar." Congratulations, Bochepus! It was long overdue!

Hank Williams Jr.

The show originated from the Good Time Theatre at Knott's Berry Farm in California, and during the evening, country music's finest saluted Hollywood's 100th anniversary.

The Judds were honored as the Vocal Duet of the year, and Reba McEntire took home the Country Video award for her visual of "Whoever's In New England." Randy Travis added to his ever-growing list of awards as the Male Vocalist of the year, and Holly Dunn won the New Female Vocalist award.

The Forester Sisters continued on their amazing list of accomplishments by winning the Vocal Group of the year competition. And, then, the second of three crowd-pleasing highlights took place. Carl Perkins was presented with the Career Achievement Award. The presenter, Dick Clark, and the audience were moved by Carl's acceptance of the well-earned honor.

"Storms Of Life" was the Album of the Year for Randy Travis and

Carl Perkins

: KENDALLS (Step One SOR- Routine (2:46) (Dejamus, Inc.- AP) (B. Regan) (Producer: R. ington)

ılike the title, this song is not "rou- for the Kendalls. It's unique. With eat groovin' sound. Step One ld be proud of their first single for father-daughter duet. Jeannie ıs to "feel" the song and conveys in her vocal; add the rhythm and an all get the "feel". It's a toe-tap- for sure! The storyline of the song ıch like Dolly's "9 To 5", but the ntation is a strong mixture of country and blues. If this type of record becomes "routine" for The Kendalls and Step One, then they can both look forward to the future!

"3935 WEST END AVENUE" TO THE TOP?—*Members of Mason Dixon share thusiasm about their new release with friends and associates. INDIE FEATURE PICKS

JOHN REX REEVES (Soc-A-Gee SC-116) You Can't Stop Me From Loving You (2:59) (Second Base/Soc-A-Gee-BMI) (M.Paul, R. Parker) (Producer: J.Elgin)

Intriguing voice and an easy-listening country song. Reeves' vocal presentation comes on strong. Production is pure country right down to the "clip-clop" sound.

J.C. WEAVER (WTM WT-7723) The Invitation (3:12) (Bobby Fischer-ASCAP) (J. Carroll/M. Huffman/B. Fischer) (Producers: J. Brown, J.C. Weaver)

Weaver gives us one of those "feel good" songs. The melody is very predictable, but Weaver lends the song an honesty that matches.

SUSAN MARSHALL (Reptile RR-2021) Why Can't You Tell Me Why (2:25) (Good Token/Short Rose-ASCAP) (M. True, J. Petrie) (Producer: S. Tutt)

The country youth market should go for this one. And, country fans who have been around awhile will relive their youth with the pickin' of the legendary Duane Eddy on lead guitar.

WORTH MENTIONING

JUDY LINDSEY (Gypsy G-83871) From My Heart's Point Of View
ANDY KING (GBS 744) I'll Keep Pretending You're Still Mine

THE BUNNY AND THE BANDITS—John Joslin and Jesse Blevins of the Bandit Band were recognized by the Easter Bunny in a Columbus, Ohio shopping mall. The Easter Bunny has been good to the band this year, with their new release being at #67 on the chart this week.

THE RECORD'S GOT A BULLET

SO WHAT!

Lots of records have bullets, but the simple fact of a bullet tells you very little about the records' vaiue to your marketplace, your target audience, your ratings!

So then, how do you fully evaluate a record's potential impact on your marketplace? A record that is streaking up the charts might not be right for you, but other records, moving more methodically might be just the record you are looking for to put you one step ahead of the competition.

The most comprehensive analysis of current hits is available only in

Radio Report

Available every week and only in

CASH BOX

Radio Report is everything you always wanted to know about a record, for every format. It includes in-depth analysis of demographics, male/female and age groups, call out and call in research, sales rankings, video information, tour information, related album information, in-depth test and break out information (by region), the industry's first multi-format chart, an analysis of multi-format records, information on indie records, rotations and a whole lot more.

Whatever your format, whatever your goals, you need a publication that gives the complete view of records that you are considering. The only publication that can give you all the information on programming your station is Radio Report Available each week, only with Cash Box.

COIN MACHINE

Around The Route

By Camille Compasio

Had to pass along this closing comment from Trade West prexy John Rowe when we called to get the facts on the firm's acquisition of Cinematronics (details elsewhere in this issue). Said John, "We have some exciting products lined up and we are certainly coming out as a lean, mean, fighting machine!" Needless to say, Trade West has established a form niche in the coin-op marketplace; and, likewise, Cinematronics has quite a track record—so this should develop into a very happy marriage.

As we go to press the Illinois Coin Machine Operators Assn. annual 8-ball pool and electronic dart tournaments are being held in Peoria, Illinois with close to 3,000 players competing for $16,000 in prize money and trophies that will be awarded. Co-sponsors of the dart tournaments include Arachnid Inc. manufacturer of the English Mark Darts games and Budweiser of St. Louis, Missouri. Atlas Dist. of Chicago is providing the pool tables for this aspect of the event. Participating players are from throughout the state of Illinois.

Here's the word from AAMA that U.S. Customs agents in Los Angeles have seized twenty counterfeit Arkanoids (on March 16) that were enroute from Beon Woo Electronics Company in Seoul, Korea to Miami, Florida. As stated by Bob Fay, the association's director of industry affairs and enforcement, this is another indication that AAMA will work closely with the U.S. Customs Service on illegal shipments entering the U.S.

Nice chatting with Jim Frye, sales manager at Brady Dist. in Charlotte, NC who had some terrific things to say about current business, which is "excellent" and the ACME '87 convention which he found to be "the most productive convention we've attended in terms of orders from our customers." He noticed quite a significant turnout of ops in attendance from the south and southeast regions. "The manufacturers had good equipment on display and operators were very receptive," he said. Jim did not single out specific pieces but stressed that "as a purchasing body operators seemed to support all lines and their choices represented a spread rather than one or two products," With respect to the state of the industry, he noted, "I think the industry as a whole today is probably as strong as it was in 1979. Ops are back in gear, the surplus equipment has disappeared from the marketplace—and things are lookin' good!"

Dateline Minneapolis. Driving games continue to be among the top earning pieces on the route for Minneapolis operator Norman Pink (Advance Center). "Out Run" is more or less leading the pack but he pointed out that "Pole Position" is still earning very well. Norm and his wife attended ACME '87 and also celebrated their anniversary that weekend, in New Orleans. Congrats. Some of the machines that impressed him were Williams "F-14 Tomcat" pin; Atari's "Road Blasters;" Cinematronics updates of "World Series" and "Alley Mast... Romstar kits; Data East Pinball's ... Betson Celebrates Spring With A Big Open House Gala!

MOONACHIE—April 1st was anything but April Fool's Day at the Betson Enterprises Moonachie, New Jersey showroom. From mid-afternoon until well into the evening, more than 300 coin-op industry members enjoyed a gala event of great food and great new products from the leading manufacturers. For the many east coast operators who were unable to attend the recent ACME convention in New Orleans, Betson's open house was the first opportunity to sample some of coin-op's latest heavy hitters that have already garnered a substantial word-of-mouth reputation.

Crowds quickly formed around Williams' pinball extravaganza, F14 Tomcat, as Marty Glazman proudly looked on. Jim Newlander was having a blast watching the response to Atari's new Road Blasters sitdown sensation and Steve Blattspieler was definitely pumped up over the prospects of Bally/Midway's Hardbody pinball machine featuring the pulchritude of world champion body builder Rachael McLish. In fact, most who attended the open house walked away with their copies of this eye-opening backglass.

Other machinery getting a great deal of attention included Contra from Konami, with Frank Bundra on hand to hear the accolades, Rastan from Taito which should be available very soon and SNK's new Psycho Soldier that found an audience from among the assembled operators, giving Paul Jacobs plenty of reason to smile. In addition, there was a full line-up from Data East, as Steve Walton enjoyed the reception to Lock-On, Karnov and Kid Niki.

In addition, the folks who attended had the opportunity to try out an impressive array of equipment on the showroom floor which included Romstar's new Tournament Edition Arkanoid as well as a very popular Sky Shark; Tecmo's upright Tee'd Off golf game; Taito's Darius 2, which received a great deal of attention as a massive sitdown at AMOA, appearing this time as a two-player upright; Memetron's Solar Warrior and Bally/Midway's new, updated two-player Spy Hunter II along with the three-player Star Guards. Capcom's Avenger and Legendary Wings helped to round out some of the Open House machine highlights.

But Betson served up an exciting day that was much more than fun, games and business. There was a sumptuous catered buffet of roast beef, stuffed shrimp, chicken, lasagna, scallops, salad, desserts and an open bar as visitors feasted during a very special occasion that Betson personnel should be commended for. Everyone created a relaxed atmosphere that helped for a genuine exchange of views about new equipment, issues on the east coast regarding skill cranes and other novelty pieces, not to mention business and what the prospects are shaping up to be for the spring.

Across the board, operators, distributor and manufacturer representatives agreed that the market continues to be bullish for coin-op attractions of all types and that the upswing in interest is being strongly felt in better cashbox returns. Most also agreed that better publicity about the indu... only benefit business and the pu... sponse to game operation. But ... shaping up to be a blockbuster ye... Marty Glazman is all smiles standing next to Williams' new blockbuster pinball hit, F-14 Tomcat.

Setting its own pace is Atari's Road Blasters which should keep Jim Newlander going at full speed ahead. Isn't that SNK's Paul Jacob's in the background?

COIN MACHINE

A Mini-Tour Of The ACME '87 Exhibits

By Doc English

Please line up for the guided (or should we say misguided) mini-tour of ACME '87, alphabetically, of course. Needless to say, my one day visit to New Orleans prohibited a full analysis of the entire exhibit area, since there was a lot of product shown. What we're featuring here, actually, is a brief, booth by booth sketch, with personal observations on some of the highlight attractions.

Atari Road Blaster—a driving/shooting game complete with wheel and accelerator pedal that received raves at the show. It comes in three sizes, the arcade style sit down, upright and a kit for System I. They also showed Rolling Thunder an upright dedicated video, spy theme a la James Bond. Another Atari hit.

Bally Spy Hunter II—an upright, two-player, split screen driver/shooter. Can Bally recapture the past glory of the original? They also showed Hard Body, a pinball with a health club theme, and the well rounded Rachael McLish as star.

Capcom Avenger—a vertical kit . . . punch and kick, bash and bop the street gangs. Bionic Commandos a save the world wear adventure games, was also featured in this exhibit. A horizontal kit.

Cinematronics Side Gunner—the sequel to the action packed Danger Zone. They also showed a baseball-sequel to the popular World Series, as a horizontal kit and dedicate game which offers more control over fielders and runners.

Data East presented a four pronged attack, as follows: Kid Niki, a horizontal kit with a samurai theme (and early reports are excellent). Karnov, a dedicated, sci-fi and fantasy shooting game with a novel hero who resembles an escapee from wrestlemania. Lock-On, a sit down and upright game involving a jet ace, ground targets, dogfight enemy planes, et al. Reminiscent of "Mach III" and "Fire Fox." Laser War a highly touted pinball, capitalizing on the current laser tag phenomenon. This is the first entry from the recently formed Data East Pinball division.

Exidy Top Secret—the driving video that boasts the largest arsenal, and more buttons than a three-piece suit.

Grayhound—the focus here was on cranes and pokers.

Konami Contra—a one or two player interactive Rambo-goes-Latin war game. (It's reported to be a strong earner so far).

WEC Lemans a reprise of the fast paced driving game debuted at the AMOA convention, was also featured in this exhibit.

Nichibutsu Dangar—a galaga style vertical kit.

Nintendo Play Choice 10—an innovative ten games in one system that will shortly be available in kit form. Several new kits, including Castlevania and Rush 'N Attack will also be coming up.

Premier Monte Carlo pinball. It's as good or better than any of their previous efforts and should be another success for this factory.

Romstar showed two kits that are on the way. Sky Shark which is the vertical blend of "1942 and "Tiger Hell" and Tournament Arkanoid the follow up to the runaway bestseller, Arkanoid. (Available as an update as well). Both topnotch.

Sega Time Scanner—a dedicated video pinball. They also showed Alien Syndrome which is a space shoot-em-up game; and the highly successful Out Run in a mini version.

Sente Moonquake—the latest addition to the new, revised Sente system. Looked good.

Taito Darius—an upright, triple monitor, underwater battle against sci-fi creatures of the deep. Lloyd Bridges and Captain Nemo all rolled into one. They also showed Rastan a winning horizontal kit where the hero is modeled on Conan The Barbarian, hacking through hostile environments with sword and ax. He also engages in a little vine swinging.

Trade West's Victory Road—the successor to the successful "Ikari Warrior" and from what we hear it's on location and doing well. They also showed Redline a championship sprint type driving game.

Williams F-14 Tomcat pinball. The hits just keep on coming from this factory. The game has dazzling sound and light display.

The three jukebox exhibits we visited were Rock-Ola, which presented more Super Sounds with the 494; Rowe, where we saw the R-91 (with CD compatibility); and Seeburg, which featured the compact disc phonograph (catch the wave).

The attitude at the show was positive, and the quality of equipment available should reinforce this attitude. Let's hope it translates into more sales for manufacturers and distributors and fuller cash-boxes for operators.

Taito America's 'Darius'

CHICAGO—"Darius" the new dedicated video game from Taito America, offers a thrilling, underwater adventure portrayed with awesome realism across a triple monitor screen. It can be played by one of two players. The visual reproduction of the various stages of combat, across the entire 15" screen, serve to enhance the play experience.

As a pilot of the Silver Hawk squadron, the player's mission is to conquer the enemy using missiles and bombs. During flight, as certain enemy objects are being destroyed, the player can increase the armament of the fighterships by catching various power spheres, designated by the colors red (to increase missile power), green (to increase bombing power), and blue (for a defensive shield).

After successfully completing the flight pattern and destroying the enemies a huge creature appears on the screen. By destroying the creature the player can select the next battle zone.

Darius will be available through factory distributors. Further information may be obtained by contacting Taito America Corp., 660 Wheeling Road, Wheeling, IL 60090.

MOMA Hosts 12th Annua State Convention

CHICAGO—The Sheraton Park Place Hotel in Minneapolis was the site of the Minnesota Operators of Music and Amusements annual state convention and trade show, marking the twelfth such event in the associations 20 year history.

The opening day was devoted to business management and technical seminars. The business management seminar titled "Tax Reform, Now and In The Future—You and Your Business" was conducted by tax specialists David Sarver and Robert Gebel of the firm Laventhol & Horwath. The technical seminar, designed to support the renewed interest in pinball, was conducted by Todd Erikson of Summit Amusement in St. Paul.

The exhibit space allotted for this convention was filled to capacity with eighteen exhibitor firms displaying their goods and services in thirty booths.

Social activities included a special breakfast and presentation for the women in attendance along with an evening cocktail reception hosted by Beach Distributing Co., Hanson Distributing Co. and L Music Co. followed by a gala banc over 140 in attendance. lars and realize good earnings from it." Pins are very good earners and they put out a minimum of 4 and a maximum of 6 each at their various arcades, with the mix including a good number of older models for the adult players along with the new machines. As Thor pointed out to us Game World maintains very strict standards at all of their locations, meaning no smoking, no beverages, no food in the play area and most importantly, no loitering. Regular rotation of equipment is a must. Maintaining a good image is another must. We might add that their player base ranges from coll dents, to business people, to you which is a pretty full scope. At one suburban arcades, they get a const of business people, between the 11:30 am-3 pm daily.
